

AUTOMOTIVE LIONBRIX BATTERY SYSTEM

With the Lithium Ion battery system from Micropower - we made it easy to power any kind of application. The LIONBRIX system is safe to use with high performance, redundant security system and fully integrated CAN communication.

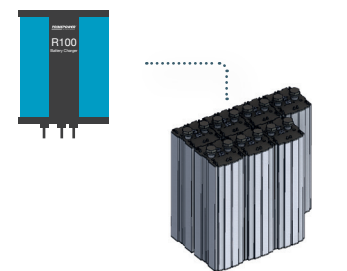

Utility Vehicles

The compact lightweight LIONBRIX batteries is perfect in the electric vehicle business.

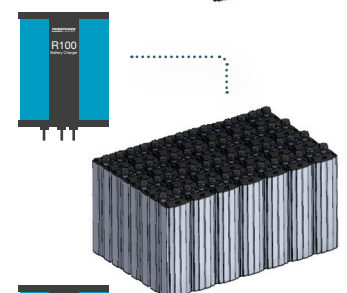

Mobile Energy

LIONBRIX batteries are powerful, compact and waterproof. They guarantee high performance under very harsh conditions.

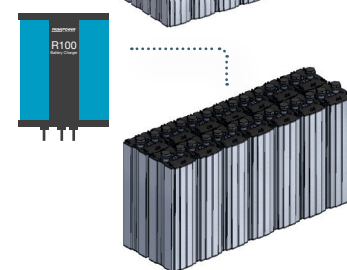

Electric Vehicles

LIONBRIX batteries secure the mobile power you need for powertools, additional electrical equipment, and refrigerator compartments.

Electric Utility Equipment

The new environmental demands with zero Co2-emission is realized with this powerful and compact modular battery system.

MICROPOWER GROUP

OUR MOST POWERFUL SOLUTION IN LITHIUM ION

Long life high performance solutions for the best energy storage

Micropower Group develops and manufacture battery chargers and other equipment to automotive and other industrial applications. With our new Lithium Ion technology we offer you the highest performance and the best life time of energy storage solutions with a complete, flexible modular Lithium Ion system from 24V/80Ah – 400V/1000Ah+. The LIONBRIX system combines high performance with flexible battery innovation that also can communicate wirelessly with your laptop.

The LIONBRIX System

Our modular system is designed and developed to get the most out of the technology and to make it flexible. Due to advanced software and electronics we make it simple, safe and fast for you to build and use our Lithium Ion battery system.

But it does not stop there. We also have the unique position to produce world class technology for both the charger, charger, battery management system and battery modules inhouse. Our solution is fully integrated and optimized for the highest requirements from the hard work of real usage. We are ready to face the challenges from large fleets with high power demands.
